A metalloid is a type of chemical element which has properties in between, or that are a mixture of, those of metals and nonmetals. There is neither a standard definition of a metalloid nor complete agreement on the elements appropriately classified as such. Despite the lack of specificity, the term remains in use in the literature of chemistry.. The six commonly recognised metalloids are boron ...

In chemistry, an ionic compound is a chemical compound composed of ions held together by electrostatic forces termed ionic bonding. The compound is neutral overall, but consists of positively charged ions called cations and negatively charged ions called anions. These can be simple ions such as the sodium (Na^+) and chloride (Cl^-) in sodium chloride, or polyatomic species such as the ammonium ...

These operators will "operate" on a wave function, Ψ , which is assumed to exist, and which is assumed to contain all that is knowable about the quantum mechanical system. We would then solve the resulting equation to get the particulars. And so, in this example, we can write the substitutions into the classical expression for total energy.

El físico alemán Johann Wilhelm Hittorf emprendió el estudio de la conductividad eléctrica de gases enrarecidos. En 1869, descubrió un brillo emitido desde el cátodo que aumentaba de tamaño cuando el gas disminuía de presión. En 1876, el también físico alemán Eugen Goldstein mostró que los rayos de ese brillo proyectaban una sombra, y los denominó «rayos catódicos». [30]
