In economics, supply is the amount of something that firms, producers, labourers, providers of financial assets, or other economic agents are willing to provide to the marketplace. Supply is often plotted graphically with the quantity provided (the independent variable) plotted horizontally and the price (the dependent variable) plotted vertically.. In the goods market, supply is the amount of ...

Monopolistic competition is a type of imperfect competition such that many producers sell products that are differentiated from one another (e.g. by branding or quality) and hence are not perfect substitutes. In monopolistic competition, a firm takes the prices charged by its rivals as given and ignores the impact of its own prices on the prices of other firms.
